

British Columbia Cheerleading Association (BCCA)

Bullying & Harassment Policy

Most investigations at BC Cheerleading Association will be conducted internally. In complex or sensitive situations, an external investigator might be hired.

Investigations will:

- be undertaken promptly and diligently, and be as thorough as necessary, given the circumstances
- be fair and impartial, providing both the complainant and respondent equal treatment in evaluating the allegations
- be sensitive to the interests of all parties involved, and maintain confidentiality
- be focused on finding facts and evidence, including interviews of the complainant, respondent, and any witnesses
- incorporate, where appropriate, any need or request from the complainant or respondent for assistance during the investigation process

Investigations will include interviews with the alleged target, the alleged bully, and any witnesses. If the alleged target and the alleged bully agree on what happened, then BCCA will not investigate any further, and will determine what corrective action to take, if necessary.

The investigator will also review any evidence, such as emails, handwritten notes, photographs, or physical evidence like vandalized objects.

Roles and responsibilities

The President is responsible for ensuring workplace investigation procedures are followed.

Workers are expected to cooperate with investigators and provide any details of incidents they have experienced or witnessed.

The Executive Director will conduct investigations and provide a written report with conclusions to the President.

If external investigators are hired, they will conduct investigations and provide a written report with conclusions to the executive committee.

Follow-up

The alleged bully and alleged target will be advised of the investigation findings by the President.

Following an investigation, the President will review and revise workplace procedures to prevent any future bullying and harassment incidents in the workplace. Appropriate corrective actions will be taken within a reasonable time frame.

In appropriate circumstances, workers may be referred to the employee assistance program or be encouraged to seek medical advice.

Record-keeping requirements

BCCA expects that workers will keep written accounts of incidents to submit with any complaints. BCCA will keep a written record of investigations, including the findings.
